

Noble® Gamified Learning Management System (GLMS)

Leverage Game Mechanics with Integrated Learning & Training

Driving higher customer experience scores starts with increasing employee aptitude. An educated agent is an empowered agent. Noble's GLMS helps you easily identify knowledge gaps, and create and deliver training programs from the unified Noble Gamification platform.

Noble's Gamified Learning Management System (GLMS) enables organizations to scale and accelerate learning across the entire enterprise. We combine gamified learning tools, an employee survey engine with the ability to easily load training material or build new content and assign it to individuals or teams – so you can motivate your team members to complete training to meet goals. Noble's powerful GLMS ties directly to our robust collection of game mechanics, helping you create highly motivated learners. Make your training programs more engaging to reduce onboarding time, increase compliance adherence, lower costs, and deploy new programs more quickly.
